THE ROAD TO HEALTH!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. T. W. Kirkus, chemist, 7, Prescot Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however, the symptoms of the attack were so alarming, and the inflammation felt so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it; fortunately she was advised to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them, and although she used only three boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but as I parcel from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills.

(Signed) R. W. KIRKUS.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Walch.

Margaret M'Cuningham, aged 16 years of age, residing at New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredible short space of time, they effected a perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 81 YEARS OF AGE.

From Messrs. Thew & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, which can vouch for the following statement—August 21, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I desire to return testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be acquainted with their virtues. I can now ... rendered, by their means, comparatively active ... and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

WHIG NOMINATION,

FOR CONGRESS

ISRAEL WASHBURN, Jr.

Harmonious Democracy.

In the papers before us we see several articles showing the state of harmony in the locos party, and as the matter may be of some interest to a portion of our readers, we make a few extracts.

Col. Benton is out in Missouri, with a manifesto, making, as he says, an anvil of one wing of his party, and using the sledge, hammer in hand, for the other. This description of his party is very rich for an old politician, and an old Senator:

"And who were they that dominated at Jefferson City, and proscribed the ancient Democracy? who were they? They were the old railsplitters of 1840, 1844 and 1848. They were the Whig allies in all the elections in the General Assembly in the last session. They were men who hold the right of a State to secede when it thinks proper. They were men who deny the right of Congress to legislate upon slavery in the Territories, and assert the right of the States to resist the acts of Congress when they please. They were soft-money men, always for banks and shin-plasters, and ready to go for them again. They were old Whigs turned young Democrats, but nobody knows when or how, and cannot yet repeat the Democratic creed. They were neophytes in the Democratic garden—exotic plants, without root or branch. They were fledglings from the Whig nest, the pin-feathers of Whiggery still sticking out of their backs, and just big enough to run after a worm. And some were still younger—little chicks, just got off the Whig egg, with pieces of the shell still sticking to their behind. These are the chaps who assumed jurisdiction over Benton and his friends, and proscribed the ancient Democracy of Missouri!—who thought themselves the State, and acted as such at Jefferson City.

* * * * *

I do not dilate upon the enormity of this conduct. A bare statement announces its own enormity. A conspiracy to attack a public man for disobeying resolutions before they were passed, or even offered, show that the plotters knew the character of their own work, and that it was criminal and right to be opposed. A conspiracy against an individual to injure him in any way is a crime at common law, for which the parties might be indicted and punished. I had a right to indict them, but the Judges were the criminals; and to indict them in their own courts would be like suing the devil and trying the case in Hell. But there was no court that was open to me—the arcopagus of public opinion I said to that I determined to resort. There was another opened to me by the folly of Birch, and there I will have them arraigned.

I come now to the execution of the conspiracy, and the means adopted for carrying it into effect. These were some of the means: the State was laid off into districts, and a confederate appointed to dog me through each, and to attack me. To those I paid no attention. Men who would pet as dogs were treated as such.—Men were appointed to interrupt me, and insult me with questions when I was speaking; to all such I gave the hot end of the poker to hold. "Abolitionists, Free-soilers, Provisoist," were the universal lies which all were to repeat: and all this plot was carried out, and more. At two places at least, at Fayette and Howard county, and at Platte City in Platte county, arms were brought to kill me if a case of "self-defence" could be organized—brought by men determined to insult, and prepared to kill. I defied and cowed them in both instances: I exposed them to the people and to scorn, and the people were with me—many Whigs. But was the like ever seen in a civilized community? A public man of thirty years standing—one whose name was known in Europe and America, and will be known to posterity, to be plotted against to destroy him, and himself to be pursued, insulted, and even killed if he dared to speak to the people in his own behalf. I did dare! and whips them like dogs. Only a minority of them got into the General Assembly, where their combinations with the Whigs enabled them to elect a Whig over me. What combination shows what was in their hearts: that they were Whigs, to the back-bone—liver, lights, and gizzard! and never wanted anything, (their leaders I mean,) but their price to show it."

The Portland Argus, the organ of the locos party in this State says:

"Certain members of the democratic party are using zealous and indiguised efforts to break down the election of Gov. Hubbard in a fact too obvious to deny. Some of them are gentlemen who have been themselves indebted to the party for nominations to positions of honor and trust, and to the lungues of the party for their election. It strikes us that they but poorly discharge the debt, when they traverse the state, stirring up all-hood, and promoting dissaffection at a time when harmony is most essential.

We have heard from these gentlemen but two reasons for the course that are taking relative to Gov. Hubbard. One is that he signed the liquor bill, and the other is 'that he made a speech at the State Temperance Convention—These are absolutely ALL!—ALL! Let us analyze these offences, and see whether they so unworthy of "stripes and bonds." Gov. Hubbard, in the course of his executive duty, found a bill on his table awaiting his signature. It had been passed by tens of thousands of petitioners, and it had been passed by a very large majority of both branches of the legislature. It was not a party affair, for democrats, whigs and free soilers were for it in common.

It is understood, whether true or not we do not know, that personally at that time the bill did not command itself to the Governor's judgment. Why not veto it then? Because he very properly reserved that power not to operate upon a mere matter of personal taste, but for the preservation of constitutional rights.—He did not recognize such rights to be in danger, and he signed the bill. What could he do else?

* * * * *

There is one section of these democratic opponents of Gov. Hubbard, who everywhere proclaim that Gov. Hubbard is very unpopular—that he will certainly be defeated—and yet that they shall vote for him. Now this is the unkindest cut of all." These persons want him defeated, we fear, but have not the candor to speak out plainly. We honor much more the man who stakes out his position, and maintains it openly."

The Belfast Journal the loco organ in obedience "Waldo," in speaking of the late Convention in the new Congressional District of Waldo and Lincoln, says:

"But it is of no use to disguise the fact—our beginning at convention-holding for the district does not look at this moment very promising, and the convention of Tuesday, and Wednesday has eventuated in a contested seat in the Baltimore Convention."

The Bath Times, the organ of one section of the loco party in Lincoln, cuts up some of the leading members in the party in the following sparkling style

"There is something so singular, so blasting to popular, in the very word democrat, that not numbers are found ever ready to exhibit their names on its banner, and useful is boldly to the popular breeze—but to the basest and fight under it, not for the real principles the name assumes, but for plunder, for power and for office regardless of integrity—willing to sacrifice the nation's cause for its (private) interest. That there are many who play this desperate game, under the assumed and stolen name of democracy, the past political history of our country, and, as the present state of things clearly demonstrates.

As a party embracing democracy, (we mean the old Jefferson one, the name they now prostitute) it becomes us to watch narrowly its movements, as well as to be suspicious of its professed principles. There are traitors in the camp. An Arnold, or a Gregory may be there in disguise, laying deep and dark schemes for the destruction of the enemy, and be found out only when too late for personal safety. We cannot be too cautious. We cannot be too fearful.

We have known some men who professed democracy, and made loud professions of it, who were not to be trusted in the public good—who were not safe advisers as to the principles of the party, or safe leaders—who were perhaps honest enough in their professions, but who were not possessed of sufficient firmness of mind, or strength of principle, to withstand the influence of power, when they were placed in it. Such men, in the hands of designing and unprincipled men, are dangerous tools, and should be watched with a jealous eye. Others we have known, who were not to be trusted with power, because they were not to be trusted with money. Others we have known, who were not to be trusted with power, because they were not to be trusted with anything, (their leaders I mean,) but their price to show it."

The Portland Argus, the organ of the loco party in this State says:

"Certain members of the democratic party are using zealous and indiguised efforts to break down the election of Gov. Hubbard in a fact too obvious to deny. Revolutionary Pensions.

Revolutionary pensions are allowed in the following cases, viz:

To the officers or soldiers, whether of the continental line, state line, volunteers, or militia, who have served six months or upwards in the revolutionary army and survived till the 4th of March 1831, a pension for and during their natural lives; in amount equal (provided they served two full years or upwards) to the full amount of their monthly pay in said line, and where the term of service was not less than six months, an amount bearing such proportion to the annuity granted, as his actual term of service did to the term aforesaid.

The pension during from the 4th of March 1831. For the officers, seamen and marines who served for a like term in the naval service during the revolutionary war; upon the conditions and at the same rates as above mentioned. To the widows of the officers or soldiers, seamen or marines who served as above, and were married prior to November, 1783, and survived till the 4th of July, 1836, a like pension from the 4th of March, 1831, unless the husband died subsequent to that date, in which case the widow's pension dates from his death.

To such widows as were married prior to January 1st, 1794, and survived till the 7th of July, 1838, or widows, and survived till the 4th of March 1851, one five years pension from the 4th of July, 1836; another five years pension from the 4th of March, 1846, and a life pension from the 4th of March, 1848: Provided however, in the event of the soldier's death, during either of these periods, the pension will cease from his death. To such widows as were married to such husbands as above prior to the 2d of January, 1800, and survived till the 4th of March, 1848, a like pension from the 4th of March, 1848.

The marriage of the widow to another man constitutes no bar to her claim provided she be a widow when she applies, nor to the children claiming in their right, provided she died a widow.

Pensions are continued to widows only during their widowhood.

Whatever arrearages may have been due the husband at the time of his death, the widow is entitled to receive. If there be no widow, the surviving children are alone entitled to whatever was due their father, in his right, at his death, and are also entitled to whatever was due their mother in her right, as widow, at her death. No other class of heirs are entitled to arrears of pensions.

Where application has been made for a pension and the claimant has died before the proof was established, or the claim allowed, the widow, or children being no widow, the surviving children may recover whatever might have been allowed the original claimant at the time of his death, but children are in no case entitled to original pensions for the Revolutionary service of their father.

Invalid Pensions.

Invalid pensions are granted to all officers, non-Commissioned officers, musicians and privates, whether of the regular army, volunteers, or militia; and officers, seamen and marines of the naval service, who have been disabled at any time since the revolutionary war, while in the line of duty and in actual service of the United States.

Naval engineers, firemen and coal heavers who have been disabled in like manner since the 31st of August, 1842, are also provided for.

Army invalid pensions commence at the date of the completion of the testimony.

Naval invalid pensions date from the time when the injury was sustained.

Half-pay to Widows and Orphans.

Army pensions of five years' half-pay are due to widows and orphans of officers and soldiers who were killed, or have since died of wounds received in the Wabash campaign of 1811 of the one years' militia volunteers of the war of 1812; and of the militia, rangers, sea-fencibles and volunteers of the Florida war who have died since April 20th, 1816. Also to the widows and orphans of the regulars and volunteers who were killed or have died, or hereafter may die, of wounds received or disease contracted while in service of the late war with Mexico.

Naval pensions of five years' half pay are due to widows and orphans of officers, seamen and marines who were killed or shall have died of wounds received while in the service, since June 18th, 1812.

The same provision is also made for widows and orphans of naval engineers, firemen and coal-heavers who were killed or have died in the service since the 31st of August, 1842.—Naval widows, who have been once pensioned are entitled to a renewal of said pension and some of them to a life pension.

Three Months Extra Pay.

Each of the non-commissioned officers and soldiers who enlisted for five years in the war of 1812 and were honorably discharged, and the heirs and representatives of such who were killed in battle or who died in the service, are entitled to three months extra pay.

Each of the officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates, whether of regulars or volunteers, who were engaged in the military service of the United States during the late war with Mexico, and who have served out their "term of service" engagements, or have been honorably discharged, are entitled to three months extra pay, "provided they were in actual service at the seat of war. If the soldier was killed in battle or died in the service his representatives are entitled as follows—1st, the widow; 2d, the children; 3d, the parents; 4th, the brothers and sisters.

Bounty Lands.

Bounty lands are also granted to officers and soldiers who served one month and upwards in the Indian war of 1832, and to the widows and minor children of those who have died.

Bounty Lands.

Lands for revolutionary services were only granted where the soldier enlisted for during the war and served to the end of it; which unclaimed lands may yet be recovered by the collateral heirs.

All non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates who enlisted in the war of 1812, and served for five years or to serve for during the war, and served out the term of such enlistments, are entitled to 160 acres of land. The heirs and representatives of those thus entitled, who were killed in action, or have died in the service, are provided for in the like manner.

All non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates who, subsequent to December 10th, 1814, and prior to February 17th, 1815, enlisted for five years in the war of 1812, and were honorably discharged, are entitled to 320 acres of land. The widows and children, or if there be none, the parents of those who were killed or died in such service, are entitled to the same; but no other relations are entitled to said bounty.

Bounty lands are granted to officers and soldiers, or, in the event of their death, to the widows and minor children of those who have served for any period exceeding one month in the war of 1812, or in any of the Indian wars since 1790. Also, to the "teamsters" and "artificers" who belonged to the line of the army; and who served in like manner. And to "substitutes" as well as their employers, and in proportion to his term of service. Provided, none of the persons so provided for have heretofore received bounty land for military services. All non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates of the regular army of volunteers of the corps, and "artificers" and "laborers" of the ordnance corps, who were honorably discharged from service in the late war with Mexico, are entitled to bounty land. In the event of the death of any such person so entitled, and before receiving the same, it is then allowed 1st, to the widow and children; 2d, to the father; 3d, to the mother; 4th, to the brothers and sisters; which relations are in the same order also entitled to any "arrears of pay" that may be due the deceased. Bounty lands are also granted to officers and soldiers who served one month and upwards in the Anderson war, but in the event of their widows and minor children are not, as in other cases, entitled to the land. All bounty land warrants and certificates of location are made assignable by act of Congress approved March 22, 1852.

A serious riot occurred on board the American packet ship Rappahannock, just as she was leaving the Mersey for New York. The Rappahannock left Liverpool on Tuesday morning. Capt. Cushing, on the afternoon of Tuesday, assembled his passengers on deck, and while the usual examination was being pursued, his crew went below, broke open the boxes and luggage of some of the passengers, drank their whiskey, plundered their money, appropriated the wearing apparel, and came on deck as reckless and infuriated as desperadoes, maddened with ardent spirits and gorged with plunder, might be expected to do. The Captain, it is needless to say, had lost all control over these wretches, his orders were met by disobedience and abuse, and seeing the turn matters were taking, he unmanfully left the ship to hire a new crew, and to hand over his present one to the custody of the police. The captain's departure was the signal for a general melee, in which the crew and passengers measured strength. The sailors, armed with knives, which they furiously brandished, kept their opponents at bay. One passenger was stabbed, but not fatally. He had, however, to be sent to the hospital. A posse of officers from Wpoolside, and another from Liverpool were necessary to quell the riot. Sixteen of the crew were taken to Woodside, and placed in custody. The examination was fixed for Capt. Cushing and his witnesses, but the magistrates "the examination" was postponed. The Captain is to abide the slothful Liverpool justice, and sailed for New York. The sailors will be prosecuted for conspiracy.

The English Mining Journal announces the discovery of gold, apparently in great abundance, within a few miles of Swansea. At South Dowlais, on the property of Lord Penrhyn, and on the property of Lord Tredegar, on which he has granted licenses, on him for the working of the mines. Some hopes were entertained in the Russian Court that the new Austrian Ministry would follow a less hostile policy.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, May 27.

In the Senate—Mr. Mallory, presented a petition from Mr. James Montgomery, offering the services of his steamboat to prevent steamboat disasters, and praying the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury for the construction of a steamer to carry the mails from New York to Liverpool in six days.

Mr. Soule reports a bill authorizing the appropriation of $35,710 to deepen the passage of the Mississippi river at New Orleans. Mr. Soule asked for the immediate consideration of the bill. The motion was carried, and, after a few remarks, the bill was ordered to be engrossed.

In the House—The House immediately after the usual morning business, resumed the consideration of the Missouri Railroad Bill.

The question was ordered to be put by a vote of 83 to 79.

The bill was finally ordered to a third reading—yeas 98, nays 78.

The morning hour having expired, the House went into Committee, principally on the Indian Appropriation bill.

Mr. Gott, of Penn., defined his position on the Compromise measures, stating in the course of his remarks that a few weeks ago, when the House passed the finality resolutions, he voted against them, as set forth in the resolutions, but that he was opposed to any further agitation of the subject, and that it was useless and unprofitable.

Mr. Gott then spoke against declaring measures a finality. He would leave them, like all other laws in the statute books, open to such repeal as the will of the people may hereafter require.

Mr. Upham, of Mass., also addressed the House on the slavery question.

WASHINGTON, May 28.

A committee consisting of the Iron Masters of Pennsylvania, headed by ex Gov. Porter, the Governor of that State, Pennsylvanians, and the rest of adventurous grants for the construction of railroads, was held last evening, and a plan was matured and agreed to for carrying all efforts, and bills now before Congress, and substituting home valuations for the present system of levying duties. As a consequence of the arrangement, the Missouri Railroad Bill passed this morning.

Later from Buenos Ayres.

New York, May 28.

Dates from Buenos Ayres of March 27, fourteen days later, have been received. The troops were fast returning from Buenos Ayres, and returning to their respective Provinces. The troops that were left behind, all Argentines, were Rosas and Corrientes. The National Guard were just organized.

A proclamation of Urquiza to the Argentine people, dated March 17, indicates thus far that a new order of things was rapidly developing the resources of the Plate Provinces.

The government of Montevideo has been authorized to negotiate a loan of $300,000 to remove the then financial necessities of the republic. Gen. Cesar Diaz has been appointed Minister of War.

Freights at Buenos Ayres to the United States were 4 a 4½ for dry Hides, and 4 a 4½ for salted do. Produce in bales, per ton (40 feet), $24 a $25.

Important to Holders of Land Warrants.

Hon. J. F. Heath, Commissioner of Pensions, states that where a party dies before the issue of his land warrant, under the act of September, 1850, the right to it dies with him, unless there be a widow or children who are minors at the time of the passage of the act. If he left a widow, the application may be renewed in her name; or, if none, then in the names of such minor children. If there be neither widow nor minor children, no right vests in any one. The act of 22d March, 1852, is silent as to the right of the widow or children to renew the application if the party dies before obtaining the warrants. If the claimant dies after the issue of the warrant, the title there to rests in the heirs in the same manner as real estate, and can be assigned only by those who, could convey a fee of land descended from the ancestor.

CHARLESTON, May 26.

Judge Nott, of Charleston, Solicitor Memminger, and Attorney General of S. Carolina, in place of Judge Harris, resigned.

Howard Dramatic Company.

Last of Lyons To-night.—We would call the attention of all to the bill advertised for this evening at City Hall. Bulwer's admirable play of the Lady of Lyons, which forms the first part is one of exciting excellence, as a literary production the reader may derive a fund of gratification, and especially upon the stage is full of thrilling interest and dramatic effect.

We notice that all the members of the company take part in the performance, and they will, no doubt, so render it as to do credit to themselves, and afford a rich treat to the lovers of rational amusement. New plays are better calculated to please the feelings than this, appealing to, as it does the finer feeling of our nature, and with a power drawn by a master hand that is irresistible to any heart-felt impulse. A deserving compliment is certainly due to the performers on this occasion, and from the reports we have thus far given by the Eagle's correspondents, and if no contingencies have sometimes occurred objectionable there is no doubt but that the public will sustain him liberally. In addition to the Lady of Lyons, other interesting entertainments announced for this evening, will, we doubt, draw a crowded house.

Harper's New Monthly Magazine, June, 1852.

We have received from Mr. Bugbee the June number of the excellent Magazine which commences the fifth volume of the work, the circulation of which has now reached ninety thousand copies. The editorial force has been increased to the number of six and their productions give interest, and influence to the pages of this periodical.

The present number opens with the Ballad of Auld Robin Grey, illustrated.

Scenery of the Franconia Mountains, has seven very spirited and beautiful illustrations

Another of Mr. Arpot's stirring articles on Napoleon Bonaparte with illustrations adorns this number. Those together with the pages from Punch, and the numerous other articles of merit, not only publics us to say that this work maintains its character, but that it improves.

Copies may be obtained at Bugbee's.

The disturbance at the late Seward meeting in Faneuil Hall, a evening and the hanging of Gov. Boutwell and Hon. D. Webster in effigy on the Common last night, were party spirit which will be rebuked by all good men. No man having any self respect, whatever his political views may be on the issues now, would be concerned in such disgraceful acts, and the opposition which took this method of expressing its feelings deserves the deepest censure. The object of which it aims, no party or sect can countenance by rejoicing defeat of its opponents, but sympathy for persons who have done which to strengthen, even that party. It is human nature to interfere in behalf of the weak against the strong, and the late conventions, and the nominations made by the democratic party, but the Whig party has not yet declared its position. Such are the principles of political combination at various chamber of Commerce, and which they depart from it, this is but a contemptible Boston Journal, May 28th.

"Now, Sambo," said a pedagogue to a boy who came late to school, "pray tell me, where have you been for the last hour?"

"Nowhere," meekly replied Jonathan.

"Nowhere," tartly echoed the teacher, who was wont to swaggle about his little kingdom like Gulliver in Lilliput, "where is that?"

"I don't know," replied Jack, as he scratched his head, and looked down upon the floor—"I guess it ain't anywhere."

"And what were you doing there?" demanded the pedagogue again, scowling still more fiercely.

"I won't doing anything. I had nothing to do and so I went nowhere."

This was too much for the ten-stiver; he knocked away his spectacles, and with a gravity, and smiled a general "roar" of boys and boys. Jonathan had to take himself off.

The American Advocate.—An Englishman publishes an American newspaper, exclaimed impatiently, on reading a copy of Webster's call upon the Whigs to support Fillmore and Donelson—"Confound the Yankees, with their Whig and Democrat—they can't treat it better than that!"

"Why, what language do you expect from Yankees, with their wooden teeth?" said Johnathan, coolly.

Bangor Air-Tight COOKING STOVE.

THE best Cook Stove ever introduced to this or any other people.

Having secured the sole agency of this very desirable Stove, I take great pleasure in offering it to my customers and the public. This Stove was invented expressly for this eastern market, by those experienced and expert Stove manufacturers, Messrs. Eastes & Whittier, who know, and have appreciated the wants of this enlightened people. It is now offered to the public with the fullest confidence in its merits, and its superiority over every other Cooking apparatus ever introduced. Its conveniences for Boiling, Broiling, Frying, &c., are not surpassed, and its extensive and beautiful Oven for Baking and Roasting, will at once recommend itself to the Ladies. Our very important feature is, it has very stout and smooth castings, and being manufactured in this city can at all times be repaired, if ever necessary, at a trifling expense without subjecting one to wait for castings to be ordered from New York, Rhode Island, or elsewhere. Every Stove is warranted one year, and one not giving entire satisfaction may be returned and the money will be refunded after 30 days trial.

A great variety of other patterns of cooking Stoves, such as the

Our State, Bay State, Empire State, Granite State, State of Maine, &c.

All or any of which will be sold at extremely low prices.

Elevated Open Stoves—Hamden 3 and 4 Boiler and two Oven Boston two oven Stoves, Forest-Queen, &c., and that very beautiful pattern of Cottage Parlor Cook Stove, and in fact every variety of Stoves for Cooking or warming, worthy of notice, can be found at the Central Street Stove and Furnace Depot, Nos 15, 17, and 19 Central Street.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IN 1849 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents, Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Section of the Act of '37.

Having relinquished the Agency for the transaction of Models, and adopted a more extended mode of spending Models, to the Patent Office, where by a small charge they are secured about six weeks earlier in the Office than they can be from the usual course of proceedings in procuring Patents. Specifications, Assignments and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the needless expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of thereby explaining their inventions, and if consulting in respect to them; matters of great importance in order to obtain one of the most beneficial and profitable grants ever issued to inventors. And from an extensive collection of rare works, Reports, &c. on mechanical subjects, and Patent Laws, and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford inventors, desirous of procuring Patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who were entrusted with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr EDDY as one of the best informed and most faithful Solicitors in the United States, and can cordially recommend inventors to employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
